TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 24

THE LAZY MAN.—Lazy man is always goodnatured. He never flies into a passion. He might crawl into one, if that were possible, but the idea of flying into one is preposterous.

Whoever heard of a lazy man breaking into a house where a crowbar had to be used, or drilling into a safe? Not but that he might covet his neighbor's goods sustained thereto, but the horror of breaking a crowbar and drill would always deter him from so easily committing burglary. He never runs away with his neighbor's wife simply on the account of the horror he has of thievery. If he is ever known to run, it is to run to seed.

He rarely thinks about his neighbors for it would be too much exertion; but he lies about a bar at day.

He is of inestimable service to a billiard saloon, keeping the chairs warm, and watching the game, for few would care to play where there are no spectators.

The fact that he does this without pay, day in and day out, shows the unselfishness of his nature.

The lazy man never gets up revolutions, insurrections, or other popular excitements, and don't make a nuisance of himself by tramping around the country making unnecessary speeches to promote public disrepute.

In his own neighborhood he is never a busybody in other people's affairs, for the idea of being a busybody at anything would drive him out of the head.

Lazy men don't disturb the quiet of peace-fun neighbors by putting up factories, furrowing and other abominations.

To the Conservative Voters of the City of Alexandria.

Followers of the Conservative ticket as nominated by you on the 17th inst., and announced to day, is composed of gentlemen who are the choice of the majority of the Conservative voters and as the nominees of the Conservative party, should be zealously supported by every member of our party. As you have been already admonished, this is no time to divide our strength, especially so, in view of the approaching State election, when the most thorough and perfect organization will be required to save our old Commonwealth from the yoke of Mahometans. And we therefore call upon, and urge every Conservative to fall in line, and go forward determined upon success on the 26th inst.

We feel assured that every end for the interests of our city, merit and otherwise, may be attained by acting to your own part. We desire to call attention to the fact that there are a large number of persons who have not yet paid their capita tax for 1880, which will be required on the 26th inst., and it is important that those who have not paid should come forward at once and pay. Now, Conservatives, do you dare stand up your friends to pay their tax, and having done so, to vote. Let every one vote on election day. By the Conservative Committee. JAMES H. LUTON, Secretary.

The conservative executive committee, after a caucus of the vote of the 17th inst., announce the following as the ticket nominated by the conservative party for the general election of the 26th inst., viz:
